

What to see and do in Baeza?

With one of the greatest Renaissance heritage in Spain and being declared a World Heritage Site by UNESCO, it is not surprising that Baeza is one of the most interesting tourist attractions when visiting the Iberian country, with all that entails. With a population of more than 18,000 people and located in the territory of Andalusia, we are talking about one of the most fascinating areas of the country.

Baeza has many attractions and many reasons to make you want to travel there. And that's why we must show you some of these attractions that make your experience a lot more enjoyable and feel much more entertaining when traveling through these homes:

Its churches. Baeza is constituted by an ample amount of churches that are a product and result of the medieval time of Spain; is a deeply religious area and where you will feel as if you were part of a journey in time when you approach its cathedrals and you go to some of its churches, where you will feel totally amazed.

Its gastronomy. One of the things that will never be missing when we decide to travel in Spain is the food and in the case of Baeza, this could not be different, so we have some of the best meals that this country can offer us and that will mark much of our trip. Roman, Jewish, Islamic, Moorish and Mudéjar cuisine are some of the gastronomy that you will try in Baeza and you cannot leave aside when you make your visit.

Palace of Jabalquinto. Perhaps the most striking structure of all Baeza and the one that holds the greatest admiration by all the public knowledgeable about architecture. When we speak of Baeza, we are talking about one of the largest structures in the country as is the case of this Palace, which is one of the main reasons why they received this mention of UNESCO.

Its stores. Like any city modernized by the passage of time, you could not miss the stores where you will be able to buy a multitude of options and merchandise that will serve as reminders of your time here. We cannot specify a single option, unfortunately; there are many that can be very interesting.