Duration of Service: November 2003 – September 2010

* Starting work as a freelance Interior Designer has been the most meaningful and most challenging phase in my professional career. It not only taught me to be level headed in everything that I do on my own but it taught me to be strong in my design and be able to work with professionals within the same field. It gave me the opportunity to learn all the things I haven't learned in school and it helped me to work my way thru
