

Smart Frog Education

What is the Time

Select the time shown

10:45

10:15

15:45

www.smartfrogeducation.com

Smart frog education is game developed in for small kids. Go interactive. In an Increasingly Digital World, one of the most challenging things for young students is telling the time on an analogue clock. Use this interactive resource go for extensive practice to help children read the minute and hour hand and determine what time it is, Which represents a major life skill.

Butterfly Life Cycle

Egg

Caterpillar

This spectacular transformation complete. Unfortunately, they only live for a short period, but the female butterfly that will be lucky to live long enough will mate and reproduce for the circle to happen again.

Adult

Chrysalis

Adult Emerges

Butterflies are some of the most beautiful creatures on the planet, and they always captivate the minds of children. This interactive learning resource feeds that fascination by providing in-depth, illustrated information about the entire life cycle of the butterfly, from the simple egg to the beautiful adult.

Name that Shape

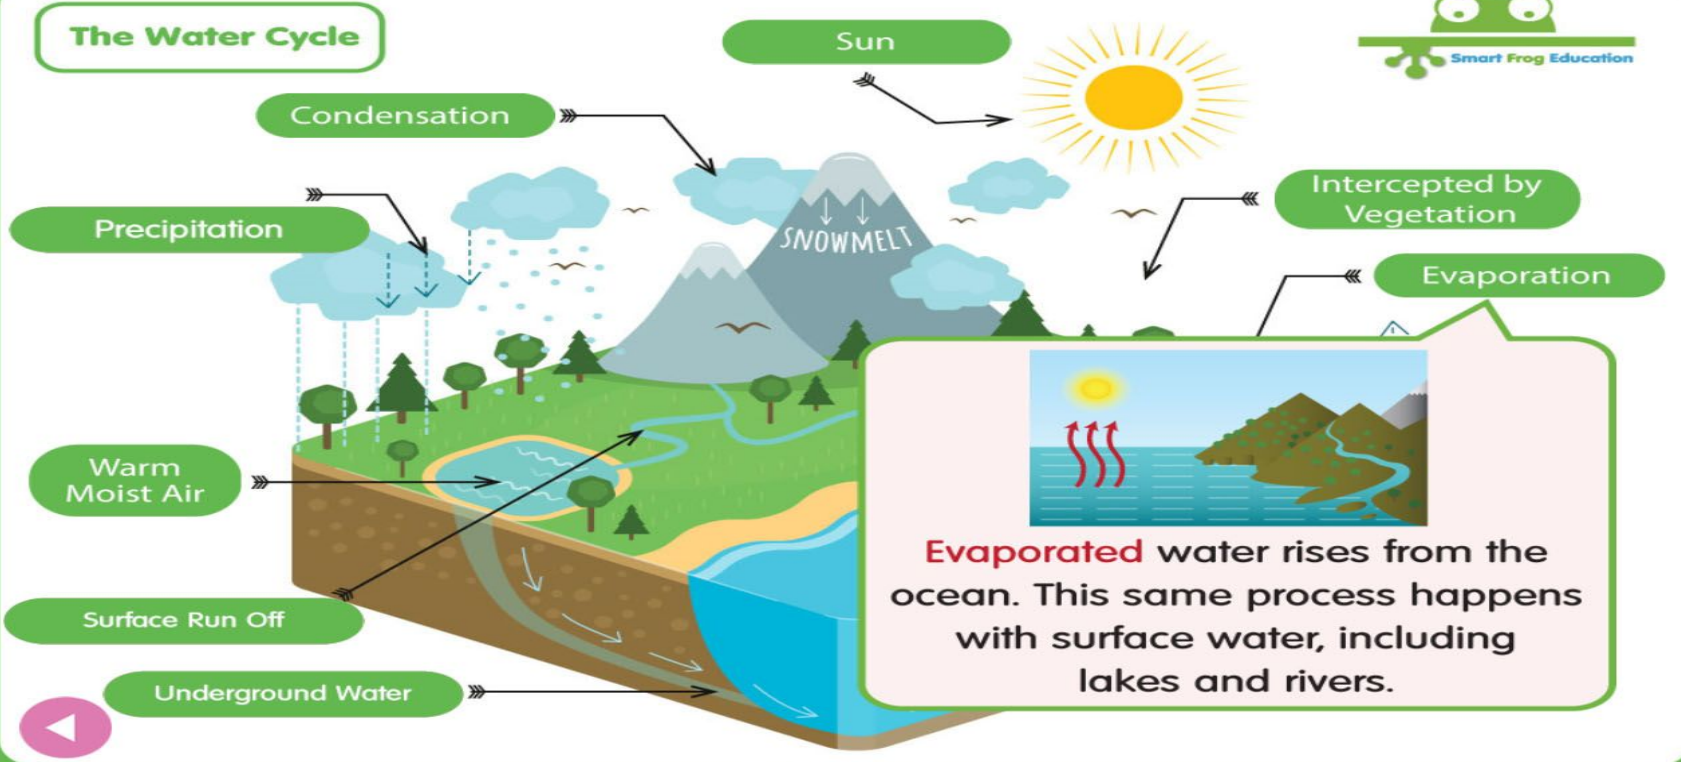

Click on the correct shape name

Cone Pyramid Triangle

www.smartfrogeducation.com

Mastering different shapes is a deceptively simple task for kids, as they often struggle with distinguishing squares and rectangles as well as two-dimensional and three-dimensional shapes. This interactive lesson tests children's knowledge of these shapes, complete with helpful illustrations that young learners can use to help them learn.

The Water Cycle

The water cycle is one of those exciting things that children see every single day without understanding its true significance. This workbook provides detailed information on how water cycle works, complete with real-world examples, and a glossary of key definitions and a series of engaging problems.

Animal Habitats

Where do animals live?

www.smartfrogeducation.com

A universal quality for children all over the world is that they are fascinated by animals. This interactive activity draws on that interest and provides detailed, dynamic, and illustrated descriptions of the habitats of different animals, giving kids an animal lesson they won't forget.